The Gettysburg fire company, scheduled to start a firemen's school Tuesday and to rearrange its entire set-up with a new list of duties for each fireman, Wednesday evening added 11 members to its roster, dropped four members, placed one on the inactive list and retired eight men who no longer are able to give as much active service as they did in previous years.

The new members named at the regular meeting held in the fire engine house and at a special meeting held immediately after the regular session were Earl Lings, Frank Prew, William A. Bigham, Ray M. Culp, Glenn W. Welshaar, Donald E. Staub, Leonard F. Redding, Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster, Borough Policeman Albert L. Wolford, Charles R. Fridinger and Charles R. Rupp, who was reinstated.

The special meeting was held immediately after the regular meeting to permit the members to vote on the last six men listed above whose applications were submitted at the regular meeting. In that way new members will be able to start training at the firemen's school. Fire Company President James B. Aumen explained.

Retired at their own request to make way for newcomers to the company were Edward Anzengruber, B. W. Hummer, Radford Lippy, Lloyd Palmer, Edward Rinehart, Wilbur J. Stallsmith, Eugene C. Schriver and Harry J. Troxell.

CHARACTER OF LINCOLN CITED IN SUV SPEECH

"Abraham Lincoln never forsook a friend or lost an opportunity to help another person," the Rev. Howard Schley Fox, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Reformed church, told a group of 50 gathered Wednesday evening at the Sons of Veterans home on East Middle street for the annual Lincoln Day program conducted by the Gettysburg camp of the Sons of Union Veterans.

"His love for the common people has been equalled by few and the common people trusted him. Even in the last moments of his life he was still imbued by that spirit of charity and kindness that characterized his life. His last official act was symbolic of his life. The last official paper he signed was an order saving the life of a soldier who was to be killed for disobeying army orders," the Rev. Mr. Fox continued.

"Lincoln was endowed with great natural wit, a ready tongue and the ability to tell stories and because of these qualities and his natural kindness he was always a popular figure. His true skill with words can be realized only when we contemplate how many of his sayings and writings have become part of the English language's great treasury of literature. His Gettysburg address is considered one of the finest masterpieces. His 'House divided against itself cannot stand'... a nation cannot exist half slave and half free' and innumerable other statements in which he perfectly expressed his thoughts and the ideals of the nation have become part of American tradition."

William L. Meals, Jr., a student of Gettysburg high school, recited Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Music for the program was provided by a quartet comprising Donald E. Myers, John B. Kendlehart, William A. Swisher and Paul A. Snyder. The Rev. Roy K. Miller pronounced the invocation and benediction.

Says Woman Was Severely Beaten

Kenneth Woodward, East Middle street, reported to Borough Police Officer Charles W. Culp, Jr., at 2:15 a. m. Wednesday seeing a woman who had been severely beaten, at the junction of the Jack's Mountain and Zora roads, near Fairfield, shortly after midnight, according to a report made by Culp.

Culp said Woodward told him that he believed two men in a black Ford coupe were responsible for her condition. Woodward said he chased the coupe, but was unable to overtake it. He then returned to the road junction, but said the woman had been picked up by four men in a Maryland-licensed taxicab. The cab drove toward Zora in the direction taken by the coupe, he declared.

Woodward reported that a Mrs. Riley, living near the junction, has a coat believed to have been worn by the woman.

MAN IS FINED FOR BRAGGING

It cost a Chester, N. J., man, William A. Martin, Jr., $10 and costs today, to "tell off" a borough policeman early this morning, brag about it, and resist arrest.

Officer Albert L. Wolford reported that he saw Martin "cruising" around town, under circumstances that led him to believe the man and his wife had been drinking. He said he stopped their car on Carlisle street, and that Martin told him "you're too smart to suit me."

Wolford said he told the man to go to his hotel room. Later, about 3:50 a. m., he found Martin in a local restaurant. The officer said he entered just as Martin was "bragging" to a waitress that he had told the "this and that cop a few things."

Wolford informed him that he was under arrest on drunk and disorderly charges, and said that Martin then grabbed a table and stool and held on until he broke his hold and took him to the jail.

Martin's wife paid his fine and the costs of the prosecution to Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore today.

SAYS LINCOLN'S PRINCIPLES ARE GOOD FOR TODAY

William H. Chesnut, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania secretary of labor and industry, told 200 persons who attended the second annual post-war Lincoln Day dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg Wednesday night that the principles which guided the footsteps of Abraham Lincoln toward immortality were "as true today as when he was a struggling young lawyer riding the circuit in Illinois, and when he became the 16th President of the United States."

The dinner was sponsored by the Adams county Republican committee. County Chairman John H. Baschore was toastmaster and the guests included State Senator Paul M. Cridder, Chambersburg; Congressman Chester H. Gross, York; State Representative Francis Worley, York Springs; Mrs. Helen Lowen, Harrisburg; Dauphin county register of wills; Miss Helen J. Rowan, secretary to Mr. Chesnut, and Lewis Y. Hagy, publicity director of the department of labor and industry.

The program opened with the singing of "America," led by Miss Ruth Martin, supervisor of music, Littlestown, and the invocation by Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran church here. Two vocal solos were given by Reginald Dunkinson, with Donald Bollinger at the piano, "If with All Your Hearts," from "Elijah," and "Be-cause."

Hails Gettysburg Address

"The borough of Gettysburg is famed the world over as the shrine of American oratory," Mr. Chesnut said. "The great President whose memory we honor today, made Gettysburg immortal when 84 years ago he uttered here 267 words of the most beautiful prose in the English language. It came spontaneously from the depths of his heart, for only a few hours before, when he left Washington to come here for the dedication of the cemetery, he had not even prepared his address."

Dr. Martin Niemoeller Declares He Never Offered To Command Submarine For Nazis; Said Bomb, Laid By Gestapo, Blasted Home

Dr. Martin Niemoeller, pastor of a Lutheran congregation in the suburbs of Berlin before the outbreak of the war and liberated from almost eight years' confinement in concentration camps, told The Gettysburg Times that he had never offered to command a Nazi submarine during the war and that he had always refused to adopt the religion proposed by Hitler.

He also said that a bomb, laid by the Gestapo, exploded in his home in January, 1934.

He also declared that Communism "will increase in Germany and that it will enter largely into the rebuilding of Germany." He further stated that the prospects for world peace will be assured "only through an understanding between democracies and eastern Communism."

Gave 4 Interviews

Pastor Niemoeller was given permission to come to this country on condition that he grant only four interviews with the press... one on the west coast, one in the Rocky Mountain section, one in the mid-west and one in the east. The latter interview was granted newspapermen in New York.

Thus denied a personal interview with the visiting clergyman The Gettysburg Times prepared a list of twenty questions and submitted them in writing to Dr. Niemoeller at the home of Dr. Abdel R. Wentz, president of the Lutheran Theological seminary where he was a guest during his stay in Gettysburg.

Answers 18 Questions

Doctor Niemoeller answered eighteen of the questions. Two remained unanswered.

Pastor Niemoeller Answers Questions Asked By Times

Denied permission (through military regulations) to interview Dr. Martin Niemoeller, German clergyman imprisoned by the Nazis for almost eight years, The Gettysburg Times submitted 20 questions in writing to the prelate and asked for answers.

At the home of Dr. A. R. Wentz, president of the Lutheran Seminary where he was a guest, Dr. Niemoeller gave answers to 18 of the 20 questions. The questions and answers follow:

Q. When did you refuse to adopt the religion proposed by Hitler?

A. Always, beginning with this beginning in 1934.

Q. Did you continue to preach the Lutheran doctrine?

A. Yes.

Q. How long were you permitted to so preach?

A. July, 1937, permanently stopped.

Q. When were you placed in a concentration camp?

A. Eight months later.

Q. How long were you confined and in what camps?

A. Three and a quarter years at Sachsenhausen, nearly four years in Dachau.

Offered To Join Navy, Not Command Sub

Q. When did you offer to command a submarine in World War II?

A. Never. Offered only to join the Navy in fall of 1939. I sent a letter to Admiral Raeder in September, 1939, announcing that I was in a concentration camp but able to do military service. My intention was to get out of prison for the time being. The sense of my volunteering was the following idea: (1) If Hitler would win the war, Germany would be destroyed by this anti-Christian tyrant, who would be able to perform his sin of doing away with any not Nazi-controlled religion, i.e., with every human spiritual life; (2) If Hitler would LOSE the war, Germany would be lost also, as it was not to be hoped for that the victorious nations according to their experiences would grant the German nation any chance of a new beginning; (3) The one thing for a German loving his people and his country could not be anything else than that during the war—and before it would be either gained or lost—it would become possible to overthrow the Hitler regime and to come through a new self-government to a negotiated peace. I intended to act in this direction, and to do so, I had to be free.

In Contact With Political Resistance

I may tell that always from early in 1934, I was in contact with Hans Berad Gisevius, one of the leading spirits of political resistance against the Hitler regime, the German Consul in Zurich during the war time, and author of the two volumes, "Bis zum Bitteren Ende." Through Mrs. Niemoeller, I even stayed in touch with him under the assumed name of Gisela, during the whole time of my imprisonment. Thus, I was generally informed of the plans to overthrow Hitlerism going on in and based upon the Uehrwacht.

The Confessing Church had tried, even after my being imprisoned, to influence public opinion in Germany against the spirit of war by arranging service of intercession and official prayers for peace. This attitude led up to the arrest of my fellow leaders of the Confessing Church in autumn, 1938, and remained at last unsuccessful.

When war had broken out and Poland had been defeated, I asked my wife on the occasion of one of her normal short visits, in a moment when the superintending Gestapo official spoke with somebody else, "What do my friends suggest with respect to volunteering?" And I got just a short whispered answer, "I think you had better do it." This event confirmed my resolution and I sent off the latter which already was written.

My letter was answered months later by Keitel, who refused to have me back in the Wehrmacht.

Q. For what purpose did you offer to join the Navy?

WOMAN'S CLUB UNDECIDED ON USE OF $1,000 'KENNY FUND'

The use to which the $1,000 raised in the past four years by the Woman's Club of Gettysburg to train a nurse in the Sister Kenny treatment of infantile paralysis, will be put, was left undecided at Wednesday afternoon's meeting of the club, at the YWCA.

Two speakers addressed the clubwomen, outlining causes and effects of polio and known treatments. They were Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, Gettysburg, and Miss Netta Ford, executive director of the Visiting Nurse association, York. A series of slides was shown by Dr. Wolff.

Dr. Wolff said the Sister Kenny theory embraced muscle spasm, mental alienation and muscle incoordination, and the treatment of hot packs, selected massage, passive exercise and mental treatment. He said the Sister Kenny treatment says that respiratory means in treatment should not be used. He said this was at variance with the American Medical association's arguments that this has saved many lives.

Packs Not Whole Answer

Miss Ford declared that the mistake of the Sister Kenny treatment lies in making it the panacea for all that happens. "The packs are not as complicated as they may seem, and people can be taught their use at home," she said. "But Kenny packs are not the whole answer." "The Kenny treatment is not the total answer," Miss Ford continued. "If you are going to prepare someone, prepare her for work among the crippled cases," she added. She recommended that the nurse be thought of in terms of Kenny treatment, physiotherapy and a public health nurse.

Dr. Wolff declared that he did not believe there were enough polio cases in Adams county to provide sufficient work for a nurse whose work would be devoted to this alone. Miss Ford suggested that the county might "group up" with part of York county.

EXPECT COUNCIL TO 'OKAY' ARMS REDUCTION PLAN

Lake Success, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council was summoned today (3 p. m. EST) to give final approval to proposed arms reduction machinery after the United States had won a preliminary victory in the fight over atomic control procedure.

By a vote of 9 to 0, with Russia and Poland abstaining, the Council last night approved a clause which would set up an 11-nation "commission for conventional armaments" to study all phases of arms reduction not already being examined by the atomic energy commission.

The United States, over Russia's opposition, has contended from the beginning that atomic controls should be studied separately from general disarmament.

Gromyko Fights
Last night's vote—taken at the end of a seven-hour debate—came as the Council considered clause by clause a draft resolution outlining the entire machinery of arms reduction. This resolution must be voted upon as a whole today, but it was considered unlikely that Russia would invoke the veto.

The resolution, if finally approved, will keep American atomic secrets inviolate from legal international intervention for the time being.

It will leave the future of atomic energy on a world scale with the atomic energy commission, a subsidiary of the Council, which has before it the so-called Baruch plan providing for release of the secrets only after international controls and inspections have been set up with iron-clad guarantees and punishments for violators.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko fought to the last against the insistence of American Delegate Warren R. Austin that the atomic field must be specifically exempted from the explorations of a general commission committed to the task of assaying, reducing and regulating arms.

Policeman Shot By Crippled Son

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—An 18-year-old crippled youth who police said shot and critically wounded his father after warning him not to "talk that way to mom" was held today on a charge of felonious assault.

Shot in the chest by a bullet from his own service revolver, Patrolman Robert J. Smith, 41, the father, was in a critical condition in a Brooklyn hospital.

Assistant District Attorney Victor Levin of Queens said the youth, Joseph Smith, told him he could no longer stand bickering between his parents and shot his father after the patrolman and his wife had been quarrelling for half an hour yesterday morning.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 13 (AP)—Sen. Homer Ferguson, Michigan Republican, told a Lincoln Day dinner here last night that he would like to see a labor relations court established. He said he opposes compulsory arbitration because "the people interested will select partisan arbitrators."

TRUMAN STICKS TO LILIENTHAL

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—The White House said today that President Truman "hasn't the faintest intention" of withdrawing David E. Lilienthal's nomination for chairman of the Atomic Energy commission.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told a news conference the President "is not going to withdraw the nomination" and then added, "he has not the faintest intention of withdrawing the nomination."

In response to a question as to whether the former TVA chairman has asked withdrawal of his name from the Senate, Ross replied with a blunt, "he has not."

Ross spoke after Senator Hatch (D-NM), a Lilienthal supporter, said that during a talk with Mr. Truman he got the impression the President would insist on confirmation of the nominee.

"My conviction is that Mr. Lilienthal should be confirmed," Hatch said, adding: "Tactics of opposing every nomination that comes up in the Senate even to the extent of reviling and condemning the nominee ultimately will result in government not being able to obtain men of character and responsibility to carry on the functions of government."

NEW CHIEF FOR BRITISH FORCES

Jerusalem, Feb. 13 (AP)—Maj. Gen. G. H. A. MacMillan, who stormed the Rhine with the 51st Highland Division, took command of British troops in Palestine and Trans-Jordan today, succeeding Lt. Gen. Sir Evelyn Barker.

The change of command came in the midst of a new outbreak of violence in the Holy Land.

The British Army, battling the elusive Jewish underground, arranged to clamp on the most rigid security measures yet invoked in the Jerusalem area at noon—putting into full effect a new cantonization of the city into four heavily secured compounds, where limited restrictions have been in effect for a week.

Last night seven Jews were reported wounded and four kidnaped in skirmishes between Arabs and Jews and between Jewish extremists and moderate elements in other parts of Palestine. Today police reported a government fisheries launch sunk and a police barge damaged by two explosions, apparently of time bombs, as they lay tied up at a jetty in Haifa harbor.

Meanwhile, the usually well-informed Tel Aviv newspaper Mishmar said a new scheme for Palestine would be put before the British cabinet for early consideration.

Martin Says U. S. Budget Is 'Larded'

Huntington, W. Va., Feb. 13 (AP)—Sen. Martin (R-Pa.) asserts that President Truman's budget "is as heavy with lard as a pig at slaughtering time."

The former Pennsylvania governor, speaking at a Lincoln Day observance, added the GOP will trim off the "hog fat."

Martin said "it's time to stop playing Santa Claus for countries which sneer at our form of government—and the line up at then paying teller's window at Washington."

"It is time," he went on, "to slam the window down upon the fingers of those nations whose ideology is to wipe out the freedom and dignity of the individual man."

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Individual stocks displayed a fair amount of recovery vitality today while many market leaders continued to stumble over profit taking. Coppers, a few rails and special issues edged forward after an active and slightly irregular opening. Subsequent slow-downs were frequent. Modest plus signs persisted near the fourth hour but declines running to a point or so were plentiful.

Chinese Dollar Recovers Further

Shanghai, Feb. 13 (AP)—The shaky Chinese dollar, holding relatively steady in Shanghai at 14,000 to $1 U. S., was quoted in Nanking today at 8,000 to the American dollar, providing one more puzzle in China's tangled currency picture.

Associated Press Correspondent Harold Mills reported from Nanking that even at the 8,000-to-$1 rate, dealers refused to buy heavily.

The Chinese dollar fell to a record low of 19,000 to $1 in Shanghai Tuesday, but has since recovered.

Army Plane Ready For 5,000-Mile Hop

Honolulu, Feb. 13 (AP)—A special long-range army fighter plane landed yesterday after an easy flight from the mainland and within two or three days will try to fly non-stop to New York.

It is the P-82 Betty Jo, a twin-engine plane designed to take the 5,000-mile hop from Honolulu to New York in stride.

"I believe we can make the flight to New York in 14 hours," said Lt. Col. Robert E. Thacker, El Centro, Calif., as he stepped enthusiastically from the plane.

That would be less than three hours longer than the 11 hours and 43 minutes it took them to fly to Hickam field from Fairfield, Calif., but they were loading. Top speed on the trip over was 235 miles an hour.

Irish GI Becomes Boss Of Democrats

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—A dynamic new Irish personality moved in on Democratic National headquarters today, and the political-wise in Washington expect things to start happening.

The new personality is 42-year-old Gael Sullivan, World War II combat veteran, and until yesterday second assistant postmaster general.

The things about to happen have to do with the now-open drive to elect President Truman another term in the White House.

They may entail a general reorganization at committee headquarters and they certainly will include a speedy decision on what "line" the Democratic party will take for next year's joust with the resurgent Republican opposition.

WOMAN'S CLUB

community any good," Dr. Wolf said. "If you are going to teach all orthopedics, okay, but I don't believe you will get anyone to do it."

He suggested that the money raised might be used in the treatment of cases as they arose. He also said that a communicable disease section of the hospital here was badly needed.

Mrs. William Tyson, president of the club, presided at the business session, and the speakers were introduced by Miss Dorothy Gregg Lee, chairman of the radio and motion picture committee of the club.

100 Women Attend

CEMENT PRICE RISES

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Price increases ranging from 10 to 20 cents a barrel were posted today by a number of leading cement producers in the northeastern United States. The advance, first to be made for cement packed in barrels since a 29 percent price increase authorized by the Office of Price Administration in 1944, were attributed to mounting costs of labor and coal.

That Ring Around the Bathtub

Jeb Crowell blew his top the other day. Seems that for weeks he's been trying to get his youngsters to scrub out the bathtub after using it. And this night he sees two rings around it—one where young Sonny left off, and another about where Pinky's level.

He raves and rants—and takes it out on the missus for her lack of discipline. And later that evening he sees her quietly polishing the hardwood table that's right by his chair. She's removing the rings he's left there with his evening glass of beer!

From now on, Jeb's careful to put his glass down on the table cover—like the missus does. And I hear he's a little more forgiving about rings around the bathtub. Just keeps on patiently reminding.

From where I sit, there are little annoyances in every family—conflicting habits and opinions in every community. A little patience—a little more "forgive and let live"—is the only antidote.

BUCKNELL NIPS BULLETS 58-47; RESERVES WIN

Bucknell university's height proved too much of a handicap for the Gettysburg college cagers here Wednesday evening with the result the Bison breezed to a comparatively easy 58-47 victory.

Control of the backboards throughout the evening was a simple matter for the visitors and the greater percentage of their shots were made from beneath the hoops. Williams, giant center, and Decsi, lanky guard, performed in great style for Bucknell and between them accounted for 32 points. They were particularly effective in keeping the Bullets from close shooting range.

The score was close for only a few minutes in the opening period. Pure started the Bullets off with a foul after a minute and a half. Fornwald landed a pair of fouls to put Bucknell ahead after which they were never headed. Decsi landed a long one-handed stab which was followed by a goal by Hart. Decsi and March matched one-handed shots. Williams looped a close shot and converted a foul. March followed with a free toss. The Bison moved ahead 13-6 on goals by Williams and Decsi and ran their margin to 17-9 at the close of the quarter.

Lead Sours
The visitors pushed their lead to 24-9 before March landed a foul after nearly four minutes had elapsed in the second quarter. Three goals by Pure featured a mild Bullets rally midway in the period but at half time Bucknell was in front 33-20.

There was little doubt as to the outcome when Bucknell widened the gap during the third period, the score reading 50-31 at the opening of the last quarter.

Reserve players played most of the final period for both squads. Bobby March and Harry Pure were the leading point makers for the Bullets with 12 and 10 points, respectively.

Eight In Row
The Bullet reserves gave one of their best performances as they ran their undefeated streak to eight in a row by smothering the Bucknell scrubs in the preliminary 68-35.

Gaylord Fissel, Bullet center, enjoyed one of his best evenings and rammed 17 points through the nets. George Gorman landed 15 while George Fair played a nice floor game.

Coach Bloomingdale's outfit gave an impressive performance throughout which kept the hard-fighting Bucknell team completely bottled-up.

On Saturday night the Bullet reserves journeyed to Easton for a game with Lafayette.

Hornets and Bears Win Ice Matches

(By The Associated Press)
Playing near-perfect hockey for the last four weeks, the Pittsburgh Hornets today were resting in second place in the Western division of the American Hockey league, only four points behind the pace-setting Cleveland Barons.

The Hornets, who haven't lost a game, either at home or away since Jan. 12, nabbed their 10th victory in their last 12 starts last night by whipping the Rhode Island Reds in Providence 5-3. Only two ties mar their otherwise perfect record in 12 consecutive games. The Hornets it now have 63 points, one ahead of Indianapolis and Buffalo, tied for third place.

The lowly St. Louis Flyers scored their first victory on Cleveland ice this season when they nipped the Barons 4-3 before 6,895 Ohio fans. A goal by Armand Gaudreault in the closing minutes gave the Eastern divisional leading Hershey Bears a 4-3 win over the last place Philadelphia Rockets.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—When a New Jersey boxer fights a main bout in Madison Square Garden a knockout is almost sure to take place, reports publisher Harry Markson. In that case, Friday's clash between Tippy Larkin (Garfield, N. J.) and Charley Fusari (Irvington, N. J.) should end in a double kayo. Wanna bet?

Other league games carded for Friday evening include Chambersburg at Hershey, Waynesboro at Mechanicsburg, and Shippensburg at Hanover. A win for Chambersburg at Hershey will make it almost impossible for other teams to overtake the Trojans.

Trippi, all American football half-back and a hard hitting diamond star at Georgia, signed the agreement here yesterday. He is under contract to the Chicago Cardinals of the National football league.

Terms of the contract with Atlanta were not made public but reliable sources have indicated it provided a $10,000 bonus for signing and a $400 a month salary.

The Pittston, Pa., army veteran will graduate March 20.

GHS CAGERS TO FACE CARLISLE FRIDAY NIGHT

Gettysburg high's unpredictable basketball team will journey to Carlisle Friday evening to meet the Carlisle high quintet in a South Penn league game.

The Maroons, who gave a poor exhibition in losing to Hershey here Tuesday night, are likely to find the Green and White aggregation very tough on their home court. It took a sensational last half rally by the Forney-men to win a 43-37 victory over Carlisle here last month.

To date the Maroons have divided in 16 games. At times the locals have shown plenty of power but recently have become somewhat inconsistent and have been victims of surprises. Improvement will have to be shown to win over Carlisle.

Several Surprises
A series of surprises in the South Penn circuit Tuesday evening should make it comparatively easy for the defending champions, Chambersburg, to cop their fourth straight title.

Already first half winners, Chambersburg laced Carlisle 56-27 as was expected. Hanover, rated by many as the second best team in the loop, was handed a stunning 46-36 reverse by Waynesboro while Shippensburg scored its first triumph after losing eight straight league tussles in stopping Mechanicsburg 36-28.

Other league games carded for Friday evening include Chambersburg at Hershey, Waynesboro at Mechanicsburg, and Shippensburg at Hanover. A win for Chambersburg at Hershey will make it almost impossible for other teams to overtake the Trojans.

LINCOLN FIVE TRIPS CANNERS

The Lincoln school boys trailed at half time 9-6 but came back strong in the second half to snatch victory. Redding landed nine points to be higher scorer for the game.

On Friday evening the Lincoln school dribblers will play a twin bill with Shippensburg junior high on the Gettysburg high court.

Andy Karl Signs Phillies' Contract

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—Fireman Andy Karl affixed his signature to a 1947 Philadelphia Phillies contract but four other players remained holdouts today. General Manager Herb Pennock spiked reports that Pitcher Charley Schanz had signed. "Schanz has only notified me he is going to Clearwater (Fla.)," Pennock said. "He did not say he accepted terms. And I can't stop anyone from going to Clearwater."

However, Pennock reiterated that no one will be permitted to practice with the club unless he has signed. Also on the holdout list are second baseman Emil Verban, Pitcher Tommy Hughes and Outfielder Ron Northey. Pennock reported that the Phils have added Vandergrift (Pa.) of the Class C Middle Atlantic league to their expanding farm network.

No College Football Game On Thanksgiving Day Here For Next Three Seasons

There will be no home Thanksgiving Day football game for the Gettysburg college Bullets until at least 1950 it was revealed in a joint announcement made today by Prof. C. E. Bilheimer, athletic director at the college, and W. Austin Bishop, Franklin and Marshall college athletic director.

The announcement disclosed that the Bullets and Diplomats have signed a two-year football contract calling for games to be played on Thanksgiving Days in 1948 and 1949 at Lancaster. This year the Bullets play Albright at Reading on Turkey Day.

The Gettysburg-F. and M. football series is one of the oldest in the state, having begun in 1890. Exactly 50 games have been played with each winning 23 while four ended in deadlocks. The last time the teams met, 1942, the Bullets won 20-0.

For years the Gettysburg-F. and M. Turkey Day game at Lancaster was an annual affair. In 1937 the Thanksgiving Day tilts were concluded when the series were continued on a home-and-home basis which was terminated by the war.

In making the announcement it was revealed that one of the games in the new two-year pact will be considered as a "home" game for Gettysburg when local students will be admitted free.

Trippi Signed By Atlanta Crackers

Atlanta, Feb. 13 (AP)—The Atlanta Crackers, Southern association baseball team, have Charlie Trippi's name on a 1947 contract and club President Earl Mann said today the University of Georgia athlete would play center field "until it is proven he definitely isn't ready for AA league competition."

Trippi, all American football half-back and a hard hitting diamond star at Georgia, signed the agreement here yesterday. He is under contract to the Chicago Cardinals of the National football league.

Terms of the contract with Atlanta were not made public but reliable sources have indicated it provided a $10,000 bonus for signing and a $400 a month salary.

The Pittston, Pa., army veteran will graduate March 20.

DUQUESNE ONLY UNBEATEN TEAM

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 13 (AP)—Navy's thrilling 57-55 basketball victory over West Virginia, which toppled the Mountaineers from their perch among the unbeaten, left Duquesne university the lone undefeated college quintet today.

West Virginia came to Annapolis boasting a record of 12 straight wins and was the slight pre-game favorite to hand the Tars their second defeat of the season yesterday.

The towering Mountaineers had a four-inch average height advantage over Navy but appeared a trifle jittery to the 5,000 fans who packed Dahlgren Hall—perhaps because it was the Middies who severed their long winning string last year.

Navy, paced by Captain Ken Shugart, the team's brilliant but diminutive forward, held the lead most of the first half. When that period ended, the Middies were on the long end of a 30-28 score.

A technical field goal credited to the Tars in the opening minutes of the second half may have accounted for the two-point margin by which West Virginia took its bitter medicine. Shugart lofted one for the Mountaineer basket, but West Virginia's center, Ed Beach, touched the ring, and Navy gained an automatic two points.

Duquesne has won all of its 15 games this season.

LAFAYETTE IS BEATEN AGAIN BY MULES, 68-53

(By The Associated Press)
Muhlenberg was back in a familiar spot today among the state's cage leaders after its fast-improving basketball team stifled Lafayette's hopes of repeating as middle Atlantic titlists with a convincing 68 to 53 victory.

Sophomore Harry Donovan rimmed 26 points as the Mules downed Lafayette for the second time this season at Allentown last night.

The Mules now have won 14 and lost four, but are unbeaten in league play with six straight. Bucknell and Lafayette retain a mathematical chance to tie but each must win all remaining games while Muhlenberg loses its two other contests.

In another middle Atlantic contest last night, Bucknell beat Gettysburg 58 to 48 to tie Lafayette for the northern division's runnerup spot.

EX-TROLLEYMAN IS 103; SAYS HE NEVER WORRIES

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—Ex-trolley motorman Charles Boileau was 103 years old today and he said he's going to celebrate with a bottle of beer.

"I'm here because I never worry about anything and get plenty to eat," he said, adding: "I want to live as long as I see anybody else around. The doctor says I'm good for 20 years more."

Firm of step and possessed of a sharp memory, Boileau is a sharp and witty conversationalist. He shaves himself and has a shock of snowy white hair. His eyesight is all that troubles him. Recently he has been unable to read but keeps informed of goings on by means of a radio.

Gave Up Smoking At 75
He was born in a log cabin at nearby Quakertown, the youngest of five children. His parents were of Quaker stock. In 1892 he began his trolleyman career, working behind the horse-and-mule teams on Girard avenue. But three years later he was off to see the country, crossing it four times as an employee of circuses. He was an excellent horse handler.

He returned to Philadelphia and for 38 years before his retirement in 1924 operated a trolley.

Boileau gave up smoking at the age of 75, but not as a concession to health, he added quickly. "I found that if my car got stuck, I became so tense I'd bite through by pipe-stem," he said. "So one day I just chucked the pipe away."

His wife, Mary, died in 1921. Five of their nine children survive.

FRANKIE KEATH OVER 300 MARK

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—Villanova's Joe Lord narrowed Frankie Keath's lead in the state collegiate basketball scoring race to six points by tossing in 67 markers in two games last week, an Associated Press survey showed Wednesday.

Elizabethtown's Keath, who has been far in front in the Keystone state scoring derby since the season opened, became the first Pennsylvanian to pass the 300-point mark last week, accumulating a 14-game total of 302. Lord's 296 came in 16 contests.

Keath retained a narrow edge in basket tossing and a three-point margin in average although Lord closed the gap in each of these departments. Westminster's Chet Dembinski, tied for fourth in total scoring, held onto his foul conversion lead.

Has High Average
In average, Keath was tops with 21.6 points per game with Paul Marcincin of Moravian second with 18.7 and Lord third with 18.5.

Keath's basket edge over Lord was two, 121 to 119, with Don Asmanga of Alliance third with 92.

Dembinski held a four-point lead over Paul Coront of Lock Haven in fouls, 66 to 62 with Keath third with an even 60.

In total points, Asmanga snatched third place with 231 while Bobby Walters of LaSalle moved into a fourth place tie with Dembinski at 228. All told, nine Pennsylvanians have passed the 200-mark, with Russ Guensch and Ed Anliam of Albright, Harry Donovan of Muhlenberg and Marcincin joining the top five.

Seranton, Pa., Feb. 13 (AP)—Federal District Judge James Alger Fee has cancelled February 17 as the tentative trial date for former U. S. Judge Albert W. Johnson and five others charged with conspiracy against the government. Judge Fee, specially presiding in the case, told newsmen the eventual trial date will depend on developments at a hearing scheduled for Thursday on defense motions seeking dismissal of the government's charge.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
BEAUTY

We often speak of beauty as something alien to us, or something set apart. A flower, an unusual landscape, a sunset, or a work that has been put into color on canvas. To speak of beauty this is ordinary and objective. But beauty is something more. It is what was bred into us at birth, an inheritance from the Creator Himself. To look upon beauty is to look upon something of ourselves, set apart into form.

Our personality melts into the very color and fragrance of the rose.
We blend ourselves into the changing moments of beauty, as represented in the sunset, or in the floating fabric of the clouds against the blue of the sky. We are beauty then,
one and all of earth's splendor.

Isn't the mere physical beauty of a great singing voice that we applaud, but the feeling and the appreciation, the melting of our own recognition of its quality, that is inherent in us, that becomes so apparent to us—a genuine meeting of ourselves in that beauty. This is true in any display of beauty, anywhere and at any time.

Edwin Booth, the actor, was in a gathering of a few of his close friends one evening, and one of them
asked him to render the Lord's Prayer. It was reported as being one of the most moving expressions ever heard by any of those gathered—so much so that each listener seemed to have been in prayer with the great actor—each in unity with the One who created that prayer. Some might call it all art, but I would call it Beauty.

Science has harnessed natural forces into the radio, so that the human voice now can be sent across the world, without wires to carry it,
but a greater thing exists in the invisible forces that enable the heart
to unite its beauty into every color, form, or spectacle that the eye looks upon.

When the poet Keats wrote that famous line of his—"a thing of beauty is a joy forever"—he merely emphasized his oneness with all beauty and his oneness with Nature.
Once these chords of beauty are touched they resound and echo fore-ever. All the earth is a family of expressive beauty!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Observation."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST
The Poet of the People
EIGHT YEARS OLD

Oh, there is no doubt about it, it's a day to celebrate
When a boy who has been seven for a year, wakes up as eight!
From the way he squares his shoulders, and the way he holds his head,
You can tell that "eight" hereafter
very proudly will be said.

When they ask him for the record
just how old he is to state,
He will fairly shout it at them:
"I was seven, but now I'm eight!"
And there must be quite a difference, though it isn't clear to me.
Since boys of seven so gladly boys
of eight become to be.

See that extra candle gleaming on his frosted birthday cake?
Watch him count the number over,
making sure there's no mistake.
From the forthright gladness in him
there's no need to have it told It's a cause for celebration when you're really eight years old.

STASSEN, TAFT SHOW SPLIT IN PARTY POLICIES

By JACK BELL

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen's declaration that the Republican party must make a "major adjustment" in tariff policies to avoid a "slide backward into economic isolation," today pointed up policy differences among possible
GOP presidential candidates.

Appearing in New York city, Stassen had top billing last night on a Lincoln Day circuit that took Republican orators into every section of the nation with general pledges to cut government costs, lower taxes
and enact labor legislation.

Democrats will return the fire at a series of Jefferson Day dinners
next month.

No Commitment

Senator Taft of Ohio, who disagreed in a Charleston, W. Va.,
speech with Stassen's declaration that the Republicans ought not to "obstruct" the administration's reciprocal trade agreements program,
may step into the Republican spotlight today.

Taft was invited to a luncheon at Columbus by his colleague, Senator Bricker, and Ohio politicians were predicting the result would be a joint statement leaving the way open for Taft to become the state's favorite son candidate for the 1948
presidential nomination.

Bricker, however, told reporters at Toledo last night that "I have made no commitment and I won't today, tomorrow or this week," on whether he will be a candidate for the nomination.

"I have not declared myself either way, since there has been no cause to do so," he said.

Lauds Taft

In an address Bricker praised Taft as "my colleague, who, by his intelligence and energy, has risen to a position of leadership that exalts the state."

Taft, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee, twice told Charleston reporters yesterday that he was not a candidate. When the matter came up a third time,
William McAdams, Taft's press aide,
interposed to say that the Ohioan
"means he is not an 'active' candidate."

Stassen, an avowed candidate, endorsed in his New York address a compromise proposal by Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Millikin (R-Colo.), designed to keep the administration's reciprocal trade program operating another year.

Dewey Speaks

The former Minnesota governor
thus sided with Vandenberg, widely regarded as a potential presidential candidate, against Taft. The latter has termed as "unsatisfactory" the Vandenberg-Millikin proposal to give the president authority to overrule tariff changes that threatened American industry.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, who also is considered a contender for his party's presidential nomination, addressed the Albany county Republican committee's Lincoln day dinner.

"Our obligation," he said, "is to make sure that we save first the liberties of the people and maintain the strength of the government, so that the government can preserve
those liberties."

Rescue Trio From Ice-Clogged River

Camden, N. J., Feb. 13 (AP)—Three Camden youths were back home today after having been marooned for nearly two hours in a rowboat on a floe in the ice-clogged Delaware river.

Police quoted John Johnson, 15,
his brother, William, 16, and Raymond Smith, 15, as saying they found a rowboat and started out toward nearby Petty's island but were trapped when the ice closed in about their boat.

Their frantic shouts attracted workers along the shore and they notified police and firemen.

Albert Weller and John Vane of the Camden rescue squad reached the boys in a boat but after taking them aboard, the rescue craft also became jammed. However firemen on shore who had attached a line to the craft pulled it free. A Philadelphia police launch attempting to aid in the rescue also became jammed and had to be freed by a fireboat.

Play Recordings In Court Trial

Eric, Pa., Feb. 13 (AP)—The voice of Mike Dominick, protesting his innocence in the slaying of ex-sailor Robert Fisher, was heard in an Eric courtroom Tues. night as the state played records of a statement Dominick made months ago to Eric
County District Attorney Damian
McLaughlin.

Dominick, on trial in the murder,
has not been on the stand; and the state, in presenting the records, was not attempting to show the defendant's innocence but to prove that he had made conflicting statements.

Already two persons have been convicted of first degree murder in the Fisher death. Michael Bubna, 28, is under sentence of death; his sister, Mrs. Millie Thomas, 27, has been sentenced to life imprisonment.

LONG HISTORY ON RELIGIOUS FREEDOM IN US

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—Religious freedom—separation of the government from the church—has had a long history in this country.

A supreme court decision this week, upholding a New Jersey state law, was one more page in the history.

The New Jersey law says public funds can be used for transporting children not only to public schools
but to schools of religious faiths.

The National Education Association has made a study of the whole subject of separation of government from church.

All that follows here is from that study.

All states provide religious liberty to a greater or less degree. But government is not completely cut off from religion.

Almost every state constitution points out that the people look to a
"Supreme Being" for guidance.
Legislation usually open with a prayer. Official documents are dated
"In the year of our Lord." Sunday
"blue" laws have been passed and upheld.

Christmas and good Friday, church holidays, have been made legal holidays.

Church and state were united in some degree in most of the original American colonies. But then the people, worried lest the nation be embroiled in religious struggle, approved the first amendment to the constitution.

It said: Congress shall pass no

law "respecting the establishment of religion." This applied to laws passed by Congress, not by states.

But the states couldn't pass any laws that conflicted with the principle set forth in the constitution.
Many of the early constitutions of the states set up Christianity as the state religion. And most of those original states had religious tests as a qualification for holding public office. Most now prohibit those religious tests but several forbid atheists to hold office.

Belief in a "Supreme Being" is still required by law for holding office in Arkansas, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, Pennsylvania,
South Carolina and Tennessee.

Belief in after life is required by law for holding office in Maryland, Pennsylvania and Tennessee.

HOLY SOCIETY TO REORGANIZE AT EMMITSBURG

Last Sunday, in spite of inclement weather, an exceptionally large representative group of St. Joseph's Holy Name society assembled in St. Euphemia's Hall, Emmitsburg, after evening devotions, to discuss plans of reorganization. The Rev. Gerald Curran, C.M., the society director, presided.

The Rev. Curran explained that, due to war conditions, there had been no society inductions for the past five or six years. As a consequence many of the young men of the parish have been enrolled. Key men were appointed for the respective districts who will visit all families of the parish to obtain the names of old members and also those of the young men who are not members. Those latter will be received into the society at a ceremony after the Holy Name mass on Sunday, March 9.

Plans were made for a Communion breakfast to be served by the ladies of the Sodality in the auditorium of the new St. Joseph's high school after the mass and reception. Election of officers will take place after the breakfast. Thornton Rodgers and Louis Rosensteel were selected chairmen of the breakfast and entertainment committees, respectively.

Father Curran announced there will be a three-day Retreats for the men of the parish, conducted by a visiting priest, the first week of March.

As a fitting closing to a successful meeting the men stood and recited, in unison, the Holy Name pledge after which Father Stauble, the pastor, imparted the blessing.

Mission Unit Meets

The Rev. Edward J. Herrmann, of Mt. St. Mary's seminary, was guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the De Paul Mission unit. The three patrons of the Missions, St. Teresa, the Little Flower, St. Thomas Aquinas, and Pauline Jaricot were held as models to the Catholic Students Mission Crusade.

Reports were given by the officers of the organization. The meeting was concluded with the distribution of pamphlets stressing prayer, study and sacrifice for the missions.

With the objective of organizing a Mothers' club, the mothers of the students met recently. The association will be the first of its kind in the history of St. Joseph's. Problems common to home and school will be discussed.

Irish melodies resound through the auditorium as students make preparations for a Gaelic music broadcast in March.

Holy Baptism was administered on Sunday, February 9 at 11:30 a. m. in Elias Lutheran church by the pastor, Rev. Philip Bower to Harry Alfred Harner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richard Harner and to Carol Ann Umbel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Umoe.

Mrs. Roy Maxell and Mrs. Roy Bollinger attended the covered dish supper given by the American Legion Auxiliary at the fire hall in Gettysburg, Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Topper, De Paul street, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Topper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Redding, near Gettysburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Merwyn Keilholtz, of Gettysburg, were visitors Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Keilholtz.

Attend Demonstration

The Woman's club members of Emmitsburg were guests of the Potomac Edison company at Taneytown Tuesday. The morning program consisted of cooking demonstrations by a representative, Miss Mary Meehan. A luncheon was served after which an instructive movie was shown followed by a drawing for the dishes that were prepared at the demonstration. They were won by Mrs. Frank, Mrs. Carrie Long, Mrs. Ora Wagaman and Mrs. Thornton Rodgers.

The following members and women of the community attended the demonstration: Mrs. Walter Peppeler, Mrs. Frank Stoner, Mrs. Lewis Higbee, Mrs. Walter Shoemaker, Mrs. Charles Landers, Mrs. Harry Boyle, Mrs. Robert Daugherty, Mrs. Roy Bollinger, Mrs. John Zacharias, Mrs. R. M. Zacharias, Mrs. Charles Linn, Mrs. Charles Sharrer, Mrs. John Wagaman, Mrs. George Eyster, Mrs. Joseph Hoke, Mrs. Robert Topper, Mrs. Thornton Rodgers, Mrs. Charles Keepers, Mrs. John Hollinger, Mrs. Allen Pryor, Mrs. Ernest Shriver, Mrs. Andrew Keilholtz, Mrs. Chester Ohler, Mrs. Charles Fuss, Miss Ann Codori, Miss Charlotte Miller, Miss Louise Sebald, Mrs. Carrie Long, Mrs. Frank Kelly, Mrs. Ora Wagaman, Mrs. Clarence Seabrook, Mrs. Esta Miller, Mrs. Edwin Chrismer, Miss Leiter, assistant Frederick county home demonstrator, was present.

The Rev. Vincent Dougherty, C.M., is conducting the Retreat for the Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph's Central house.

The Rt. Rev. John L. Sheridan, A.M., president of Mt. St. Mary's college, the Revs. William Culhane, Vincent Dougherty, C.M., Francis Desmond, C.M., Gerard Murphy, C.M., Francis Dodd, C.M., Thomas Ryan, C.M., John Sullivan, C.M., Gerald Durran, C.M., Elbert Gay, C.M., Thomas O'Connor, C.M., were present at a birthday dinner given in honor of Rev. ## Urges Jews To End Peace Threat

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—The Jewish people were urged today to combat "political nationalism" and to seek a relaxed immigration program to remove "a real threat to peace."

Dr. Irving F. Reichert, rabbi of Temple Emanu-El, San Francisco, told the American Council of Judaism Jews must oppose "political nationalism" if Palestine is to be a "sanctuary for oppressed Israel."

"There is nothing in the fundamental principles of Judaism," he asserted, "which can support the demand for a Jewish political state in Palestine."

The whole future of the Jewish people is at stake, Dr. Reichert told the council's third annual national conference.

In an earlier address last night, Earl G. Harrison, dean of the University of Pennsylvania Law School and chairman of the committee on displaced persons, urged the United States immigration policy be eased so as to remove "a real threat to peace."

Harrison said it was foolhardy to believe that "any number of people amounting to three-tenths of our population could adversely affect our economy."

JEW AND ARABS IN SKIRMISHES IN PALESTINE

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON
Jerusalem, Feb. 13 (AP)—Seven Jews were reported wounded and four kidnapped in skirmishes between Arabs and Jews and between Jewish extremist and moderate elements in troubled Palestine last night.

Reports of the skirmishes, lacking official confirmation, came from private informants.

Some 100 Arabs carrying knives and sticks were said to have raided the Jewish village of Bnei Geulim, wounded seven inhabitants and abducted one knife victim—Itzhak Biri, 35.

Grazing Lands Disputed
Informants said the raid evidently grew out of a quarrel over grazing lands around Bnei Geulim, 10 miles east of Nathanya between Haifa and Tel Aviv, and the nearby Arab village of Il Amrak.

Ten-armed Jews believed to belong to the moderate Hashomir Hatzair (young guard) political party were reported to have kidnapped a Jewish underground fighter from an orange grove near Rehovot.

Soon after, two Hashomir party members were said to have been abducted, evidently in revenge, from the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv, where 12 persons were hurt night before last in an underground raid on Hashomir party headquarters. Hashomir Hatzair has voiced strong opposition to underground violence.

"British Must Pay"
Meanwhile, Irgun Zvai Leumi, the larger of Palestine's two aggressive underground armies, declared in a secret-radio broadcast that "the British must pay with their blood for all Jewish blood shed." Last Sunday an unauthorized Jewish immigrant was wounded fatally aboard an intercepted blockade runner, and next day three suspected Irgunists were sentenced to death.

Lt. Gen. Sir Evelyn Barker, British army commander in Palestine, postponed the execution of Dov Bela Gruner, condemned Irgunist, pending an appeal to Britain's Supreme court, the privy council.

Authorities said the case would drag out for months and maybe a year. Gruner originally was scheduled to hang last month for a raid on a police station. He himself declined to sign an appeal, but lawyers acted for him at the request of an uncle, Frank Gruner, said to be a resident of Florida.

GERMANS SEND TOYS

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—The American Friends Service committee has received more than 1,000 toys made by the children of Darnstadt, Germany. The toys—ranging from complicated mechanical devices to bookmarks—were sent here by the German children in appreciation of American gifts. They were created from every bit of material the German children could obtain.

$65,000 FIRE

Lynn, Mass., Feb. 13 (AP)—Seventy persons were driven to the street and two firemen were injured last night when a $65,000 fire wrecked a three-story building housing 30 apartments and five stores. The blaze threatened a heavily-populated residential district before it was extinguished.

Several weeks with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Reeves Blanford, of Upper Darby, Md.

Mrs. Albert Patterson has returned home after visiting for some time in Detroit, Michigan, with her granddaughter, Mrs. Edward Flowers and family.

Mr. Lewis Eckenrode, of Philadelphia, spent Tuesday night and Wednesday at the home of his father, Charles E. Eckenrode. Miss Alice Kelly accompanied her nephew, Lewis Eckenrode to Philadelphia on Wednesday where she expects to spend several weeks visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Daniel Keating and family, of Chicago, are spending some time at the home of her parents, Prof. and Mrs. Thomas J. Norris.

ICE DAMAGE TO SHIP DELAYS POLAR PARTY

(By The Associated Press)
An accident to the transport Merrick brought a slowdown today in efforts of the U. S. Navy to bring its ships out of the Ross-sea ice pack off the Antarctic coast.

Associated Press Correspondent Alton L. Blakeslee reported last night in a combined American Press dispatch that the Mount Olympus, flagship of the Antarctic expedition, and the Transport Yancey yesterday emerged safely from the ice pack with 70 miles still to go to their objective, Scott Island.

Left some 70 miles behind in the pack ice, however, Blakeslee said, was the Transport Merrick, crippled when she smashed her rudder on a jagged ice floe. The Icebreaker Northwind stood by. A second icebreaker, the Burton Island, escort of the Olympus and the Yancey, turned back into the pack to help.

Crashed Into Ice
In another combined American Press dispatch, International News Service Correspondent Lee Van Atta told how the Merrick got into trouble. The 17,000-ton vessel, with 323 men aboard, was moving through the pack Tuesday night when a wind arose, with gusts up to 40 miles an hour.

Suddenly, the Merrick crashed into the ice and the rudder was disabled. Daring coast guardsmen aboard the Northwind maneuvered the icebreaker close to the crippled ship and took her into tow. However, the towline became fouled and the Northwind, thrown against the Merrick in the wind, punched two holes in the hull above the waterline. To forestall further damage, the line was cut.

Back at Little America, Rear Adm. Richard H. Byrd, expedition commander, told H. D. Quigg of the United Press that the nations of the world might some day use the Antarctic continent as a "great refrigerator."

"When countries have crops in abundance, they could put surplus supplies here to be used in famine years," Byrd was quoted as saying in a combined American Press report. "The world's supply of food thus would be evened out."

CHANGES STORY IN MURDER CASE

Erie, Pa., Feb. 13 (AP)—Michael Dominick, 28, on trial for murder in the March 4 pistol death of ex-sailor Robert Fisher, 34, today watched the case near a jury which heard him admit he had given false testimony at the trial, of his alleged confederates last May.

Dominick still stuck to his story that Michael Bubna, 28, shot and killed Fisher, but he changed his testimony regarding Bubna's 27-year-old sister, Mrs. Millie Thomas. In the May trial, Dominick said Mrs. Thomas was in the basement room while Bubna was being killed. Last night Dominick was unable to remember Mrs. Thomas having been in the room.

Dominick's testimony played a part in giving Bubna a sentence of death in the electric chair and Mrs. Thomas life in prison.

District Attorney Damian McLaughlin questioned Dominick at length on the varying stories he had told. When he had obtained from Dominick the admission that he had told two different stories about Mrs. Thomas' presence in the murder room, McLaughlin abruptly ceased questioning and dismissed the defendant from the stand.

Missing Keys To Prison Are Sought

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—Keys with which prisoners in Holmesburg prison might open every cell block and cell in the institution were the object of an intensive police search today.

The keys were taken by one of the five men who escaped from the prison last Monday by overpowering a guard and using him as a shield in scaling a 35-foot wall.

The three convicts captured a few hours after the break have insisted under questioning they threw the keys away somewhere in the course of their flight, police report.

Two others—William (Slick Willie) Sutton and Frederick Tenuto, both regarded as desperate men—remained at large and police were working on a tip the men had escaped into New York.

Bulls are color blind, and charge at the matador's cape only because it is moving. Dextrose, a form of sugar, is found in blood.

Need A Lincoln Now
"If we had a man such as Lincoln at the helm of our nation today, that man would be able to brush away the confusion which has beset us for too long, and before we knew it, we would be out of the present state of national chaos and well along the road to peace and plenty once more. He would simply apply the principles of sound common sense with which he overcame even greater problems and difficulties in the eighteen-sixties. He would once more make it his fixed and purposeful goal to bring about unity in the hearts and minds of all the people of America. He would resolve the differences which now beset us. He would get our people back to work, back to producing again."

Foremost among Lincoln's tenets, Mr. Chestnut said, was hard work and thrift.

Set Example For Us
"Today," he said, "too many of our people shun hard work and look down upon thrift. Those of our national leaders who preach the virtues of hard work and thrift are ridiculed as Tories and ultra conservatives. Our people turn instead to leaders who given them golden promises of greater rewards for less

Warlord of Mazelaine, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Kettles, Jr., of Westbury, N. Y., defeated more than 150 boxers to become the first 1946 finalist to win a breed ribbon this year. One of the three variety group winners last year, Warlord now has a record of 69 breed titles, as well as a dozen best-in-show wards from other fixtures and 47 group championships.

Another of last year's finalists, Ch. Prune's own Palmer, went down to defeat, however, in the preliminary competition for English setters. Ch. Rip of Blue Bar, from the Halover, Pa., Kennels of C. N. Myers, was named best of the English setters, beating Prune's own Palmer and 45 others of the breed.

Ask Serious Thought On Hospital Plans
Harrisburg, Feb. 13 (AP)—The Pennsylvania General assembly was asked to give "serious thought" in making allocations for Governor Duff's $82,000,000 mental hospital program.

The Pennsylvania economy league, a private research organization, suggested in a statement yesterday that appropriations for the hospital program should be held to "no more than can be spent effectively during the next two years."

If appropriations at this session are limited to the work that can be done, the league pointed out, "needed projects can be appropriated for by later legislative sessions."

Duff has requested that the full $82,000,000 be appropriated by the 1947 legislature because he said, any other methods would only cause "further delay."

Arrangements are to be made to have the service truck wait more than five minutes after the other trucks have left the engine house for a fire, Chief Aumen said. The decision came after several members, who do not have cars, reported that they had run from their homes to the engine house after hearing alarms only to find that all equipment had left and as a result they were unable to assist. At present the service truck waits only five minutes for late-comers after the last engine has left the fire house.

Chief Aumen also announced that appointments of firemen for various duties are being completed and that a board showing each man's job will be posted in the engine house within a month.

SAYS LINCOLN'S

for its dignity, simplicity and force," the speaker continued. "It is a human document that holds unchanging appeal to the ears and the hearts of all men. It is timeless, and its clarity and brevity add to its moving eloquence."

After tracing Lincoln's humble beginning and struggle for an education, Mr. Chesnut declared that "it is particularly an American trait and characteristic to rise from youthful poverty and obscurity to greatness or fame or riches. Only in America is such an upward struggle fruitful."

Need A Lincoln Now
"If we had a man such as Lincoln at the helm of our nation today, that man would be able to brush away the confusion which has beset us for too long, and before we knew it, we would be out of the present state of national chaos and well along the road to peace and plenty once more. He would simply apply the principles of sound common sense with which he overcame even greater problems and difficulties in the eighteen-sixties. He would once more make it his fixed and purposeful goal to bring about unity in the hearts and minds of all the people of America. He would resolve the differences which now beset us. He would get our people back to work, back to producing again."

Foremost among Lincoln's tenets, Mr. Chestnut said, was hard work and thrift.

Set Example For Us
"Today," he said, "too many of our people shun hard work and look down upon thrift. Those of our national leaders who preach the virtues of hard work and thrift are ridiculed as Tories and ultra conservatives. Our people turn instead to leaders who given them golden promises of greater rewards for less

Warlord of Mazelaine, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Kettles, Jr., of Westbury, N. Y., defeated more than 150 boxers to become the first 1946 finalist to win a breed ribbon this year. One of the three variety group winners last year, Warlord now has a record of 69 breed titles, as well as a dozen best-in-show wards from other fixtures and 47 group championships.

Another of last year's finalists, Ch. Prune's own Palmer, went down to defeat, however, in the preliminary competition for English setters. Ch. Rip of Blue Bar, from the Halover, Pa., Kennels of C. N. Myers, was named best of the English setters, beating Prune's own Palmer and 45 others of the breed.

Ask Serious Thought On Hospital Plans
Harrisburg, Feb. 13 (AP)—The Pennsylvania General assembly was asked to give "serious thought" in making allocations for Governor Duff's $82,000,000 mental hospital program.

The Pennsylvania economy league, a private research organization, suggested in a statement yesterday that appropriations for the hospital program should be held to "no more than can be spent effectively during the next two years."

If appropriations at this session are limited to the work that can be done, the league pointed out, "needed projects can be appropriated for by later legislative sessions."

work—something for nothing. Lincoln, the plain, great working man, learned the hard way that you cannot ever get something for nothing.

"Unprincipled leaders and unprincipled people who resort to guile and dishonest compromises with truth sometimes score seeming triumphs, but in the end they fail, and fail invariably in disaster. Hitler and Mussolini are examples of that which are fresh in our minds. We saw them grow and appear to flourish. But they had built their houses on the sands of dishonesty, and in the end the peoples they duped found their worlds had crumbled about them."

"The martyred president whose memory we honor today set for us, by his life, a pattern for our lives. We owe it to him, and to the other great American pioneers of by-gone days, to follow those American precepts. If we do that, we shall continue to grow greater, and more prosperous. Happiness, peace and contentment shall be our national lot."

George Baker Speaks
George Baker, Abbottstown, who also gave an address on Lincoln, said: "Birthdays are celebrated, and birthdays are observed. For the past 14 years we have been observing Lincoln's birthday, but today we celebrate it with great joy, in the achievement of a great victory. For 14 years we have floundered in a maze of government not intended by the founders of our nation." He then traced the history and growth of Abraham Lincoln, and the political conventions and campaigns which brought about his election and re-election.

Among other speakers were Congressman Gross, Senator Crider, Assemblyman Worley and Mrs. Lowen. In addition to these guests, others seated at the speakers' table included State Committeeman Frank Sionaker, and Mrs. Esther Hayberger, Adams county Republican vice chairman.

The program closed with the singing of "America, the Beautiful," with Mrs. Eugene Elgin, Jr., East Berlin, at the piano, and the benediction by Dr. Gresh.

EARTH TO THE MOON

By Jules Verne

Chapter 11

Little by little the belt of heat contracted, until on the 22d of August, Barbicane, his colleagues, and the engineer were enabled to set foot on the iron sheet which lay level upon the summit of Stones Hill.

Immediately the operation of boring was commenced; and by the aid of powerful machines, a few weeks later, the inner surface of the immense tube had been rendered perfectly cylindrical, and the bore of the piece had acquired a thorough polish.

At length, on the 22d of September, less than a twelve-month after Barbicane's original proposition, the enormous weapon, accurately bored, and exactly vertically pointed, was ready for work. There was only the moon now to wait for; and they were pretty sure that she would not fail in the rendezvous.

Just at this moment a circumstance, the most unexpected, the most extraordinary and incredible, occurred to throw every mind into a state of the most violent excitement.

One day, the 30th of September, at 3:47 P.M., a telegram transmitted by cable from Valentia (Ireland) to Newfoundland and the American mainland, arrived at the address of President Barbicane.

Here is the text of the dispatch, which figures now in the archives of the Gun Club:

"FRANCE, PARIS, 30 September, 4 A.M., Barbicane, Tampa Town, Florida, United States.

"Substitute for your spherical shell a cylindro-conical projectile. I shall go inside. Shall arrive by steamer, Atlanta."

MICHEL ARDAN.

The contents of the dispatch, speedily became known; for the telegraphic officials possessed but little discretion, and Michel Ardan's proposition ran at once throughout the several States of the Union.

That very evening Barbicane wrote to the house of Breadwill and Co., requesting them to suspend the casting of the projectile until the receipt of further orders. On the 20th of October, at nine A.M., the semaphores of the Bahama Canal signaled a thick smoke on the horizon.

The anchor had scarcely caught the sandy bottom when five hundred boats surrounded the Atlanta, and the steamer was taken by assault. Barbicane was the first of which he vainly tried to conceal the emotion, call "Michel Ardan."

"Here!" replied an individual perched on the poop.

Barbicane, with arms crossed, looked fixedly at the passenger of the Atlanta.

He was a man of about forty-two years of age, of large build, but slightly round-shouldered. His massive head momentarily shook a shock of reddish hair, which resembled a lion's mane. His face was short with a broad forehead, and furnished with a mustache as bristly as a cat's, and little patches of yellowish whiskers upon full cheeks. Round, wildish eyes, slightly near-sighted, completed a physiognomy essentially feline. His nose was firmly shaped, his mouth particularly sweet in expression, high forehead, intelligent and furrowed with wrinkles like a newly-plowed field. The body was powerfully developed and firmly fixed upon long legs. Muscular arms, and a general air of decision gave him the appearance of a hardy, jolly companion. He was dressed in a suit of ample dimensions, loose neckerchief, open shirtcollar, disclosing a robust neck; his cuffs were invariably unbuttoned, through which appeared a pair of red hands.

The scrutiny which the president of the Gun Club had instituted regarding this new rival was quickly interrupted by the shouts and hurrahs of the crowd. The cries became at last so uproarious, and the popular enthusiasm assumed so personal a form that Michel Ardan, after having shaken hands some thousands of times, at the imminent risk of leaving his fingers behind him, was fain at last to make a bolt for his cabin.

Barbicane followed him without uttering a word.

"You are Barbicane, I suppose?" said Michel Ardan, in a tone of voice in which he would have addressed a friend of twenty years' standing.

"Yes," replied the president of the Gun Club.

"All right! how d'ye do, Barbicane? how are you getting on—pretty well? that's right."

"So," said Barbicane without further preliminary, "you are quite determined to go."

"Quite decided."

"Nothing will stop you?"

"Nothing. Have you modified your projectile according to my telegram?"

"I waited for your arrival, But," asked Barbicane again, "have you carefully reflected?"

"Reflected? have I any time to spare? I find an opportunity of making a tour in the moon, and I mean to profit by it. There is the whole gist of the matter."

Barbicane looked hard at this man who spoke so lightly of his project with such complete absence of anxiety. "But, at least," said he, "you have some plans, some means of carrying your project into execution?"

"Excellent, my dear Barbicane; only permit me to offer one remark: My wish is to tell my story once for all, to everybody, and then to have done with it; then there will be no need for recapitulation. So, if you have no objection, assemble your friends, colleagues, the whole town, all Florida, all America if you like, and tomorrow I shall be ready to explain my plans and answer any objections whatever may be advanced. You may rest assured I shall wait without stirring. Will that suit you?"

"All right," replied Barbicane.

So saying, the president left the cabin and informed the crowd of the proposal of Michel Ardan. Tomorrow every one would contemplate at his ease this European hero.

Chapter 12

Three hundred thousand people braved for many hours the stifling heat while awaiting the arrival of the Frenchman. At three o'clock Michel Ardan made his appearance, accompanied by the principal members of the Gun Club.

He exhibited not the slightest embarrassment; he was just as gay, familiar, and pleasant as if he were at home. To the hurrahs which greeted him he replied by a hand to request silence, he spoke in perfectly correct English as follows:

"Gentlemen, despite the very hot weather I request your patience for a short time while I offer some explanations regarding the projects which seem to have so interested you. Now pray do not forget that you see before you a perfect ignoramus whose ignorance goes so far that he cannot even understand the difficulties! It seemed to him that it was a matter quite simple, natural, and easy to take one's place in a projectile and start for the moon! That journey must be undertaken sooner or later; and, as for the mode of locomotion adopted, it follows simply the law of progress.

I am convinced that before twenty years are over one-half of our earth will have paid a visit to the moon.

As soon as the excitement had subsided, the following words were heard uttered in a strong and determined voice:

"Now that the speaker has favored us with so much imagination, would he be so good as to return to his subject, and give us a little practical view of the question?"

All eyes were directed toward the person who spoke. He was a little dried-up man, of an active figure, with an American "goatee" beard.

"You are right, sir," replied Michel Ardan.

"Sir," said the unknown. "I warn you for your own sake—there is not the smallest particle of air on the surface of the moon."

"Oh! so there is no air in the moon? And pray, if you are so good, you ventures to affirm that?"

"The men of science."

"My good sir, there will always be enough for a solitary individual; besides, once arrived up there, I shall do my best to economize, and not to breathe except on grand occasions!"

A tremendous roar of laughter rang in the ears of the mysterious interlocutor, who glared fiercely round upon the assembly.

"Turn him out!" roared the crowd.

But he, holding firmly on to the platform, did not budge an inch, and let the storm pass on, which would soon have assumed formidable proportions, if Michel Ardan had not quieted it by a gesture.

"You wished to say a few more words."

"Yes, a thousand; or rather, no, only one! If you persevere in your enterprise, you must be a—"

"Very rash person! How can you tread as such? We, who have demanded a cylindro-conical projectile, in order to prevent turning round and round on my way like a squirrel?"

"But, unhappy man, the dreadful recoil will smash you to pieces at your starting."

"My dear contradictor, you have just put your finger upon the true and the only difficulty; nevertheless, I have too good an opinion of the industrial genius of the Americans not to believe that they will succeed in overcoming it."

"But your fall on the moon, supposing you ever reach it?"

"It will be six times less dangerous than a sudden fall upon the earth, because the weight will be only one-sixth as great on the surface of the moon."

"Still it will be enough to smash you like glass!"

"What is to prevent my retarding the shock by means of rockets conveniently placed, and lighted at the right moment?"

"But after all, supposing all difficulties surmounted, all obstacles removed, supposing everything combined to favor you, and granting voice.

"The ignoramus who organized this equally absurd and impossible experiment!"

The attack was direct. Barbicane, ever since the interference of the unknown, had been making fearful efforts of self-control; now, however, seeing himself directly attacked, he could restrain himself no longer. He rose suddenly, and was rushing upon the enemy who thus braved him to the face, when all at once he found himself separated from him.

Barbacene, free at last, had gone straight to his adversary.

"Who are you?" asked Barbicane.

"Captain Nicholl!"

"So I suspected. Hitherto chance has never thrown you in my way."

"You have insulted me."

"Publicly!"

"And you will answer to me for this insult?"

"At this very moment."

"No! I desire that all that passes between us shall be secret. There is a wood situated three miles from Tampa, the wood of Skersnow. Do you know it?"

"I know it."

"Will you be so good as to enter it tomorrow morning at five o'clock, on one side?"

"Yes! If you will enter at the other side at the same hour."

Lansford, Pa., Feb. 13 (P)—Fourteen miners were on a sit down strike today 600 feet below the surface of the earth.

Without benefit of blankets or special clothing, the small band of men settled down in their dark, damp workings last night vowing to remain until pay they say was doctored by the Lehigh Navigation Coal company is restored.

The sub-surface sitdown, reminiscent of the memorable underground strike in October, 1937, was the latest action in a dispute which began when the company said miners quitting work before earning "a full day's pay" would have checks doctored accordingly.

Company officials made no comment on the strike.

That you may arrive safe and sound in the moon, how will you come back?"

"I am not coming back!"

"It really is too much!" cried Michel Ardan's adversary. "I do not know why I should continue so frivolous a discussion!"

"No! Another person is responsible for your act."

"Who may I ask?" demanded Michel Ardan in an imperious tone.

Gas Line Break

Pittsburgh, Feb. 13 (P)—Workmen toiled into the early morning hours today repairing a break in a natural gas pipeline near Charleston, W. Va., which cut off fuel supplies to 154 western Pennsylvania industrial plants yesterday.

The break, described as a "weld rupture," was in a line owned by the Tennessee Gas and Transmission company which brings gas from Texas to the Peoples Natural Gas company.

Lack of gas and reduced pressure resulted in a complete stoppage of service for several hours and caused the U. S. Steel Corp. to delay its plan to return several open hearth furnaces to operation temporarily idling 3,000 of the firm's workers at Johnstown, Donora and Vandergrift, Pa.

The Allegheny-Ludlum Steel Corp. sent 1,200 home at Leechburg and an unspecified number at Brackenridge. Other plants said at least 3,000 were idle because of the shutdown.

"And you will not forget your rifle?" said Barbicane.

"No more than you will forget yours?" replied Nicholl.

GOP REFUSES TO YIELD ON BUDGET SLASH

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—Republican fiscal managers refused to yield today on their decision to slash the 1948 budget by $6,000,000,000 despite Army-Navy protests that cutting their funds will endanger the nation's security.

Secretary of War Patterson declared last night that if the Army is made to take a $1,500,000,000 cut "the current and long-term missions of the Army including those of Gen. MacArthur in Japan and Gen. McNarney in Germany, will be jeopardized."

Patterson issued this statement soon after the Navy sent a report to Congress saying that even a $500,000,000 drop in its funds might make the fighting fleets "immobile and impotent as an instrument of national defense."

Showdown Friday Instead of giving ground, Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.), of the House Appropriations Committee described the armed forces' protests as part of a pressure campaign "to keep the fat and padding" in President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget. This calls for $6,700,000,000 for the Army and $4,423,000,000 for the Navy.

The showdown will come tomorrow when a 20-man subcommittee submits to the 102-member Senate House budget committee its formal recommendation that Mr. Truman's spending estimate be pared to $31,500,000,000.

Republican leaders gave no details of how they planned to distribute the $6,000,000,000 cut among the various government departments.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD), of the Senate armed services committee said the proposed $6,000,000,000 budget slash, for the year beginning July 1, would take $1,750,000,000 from the armed services directly and another $500,000,000 from the civil functions of the Army, such as rivers and harbors improvements.

Flames surging out from the burning factory destroyed one nearby home, damaged four others and burned down power lines which left the community without electric current or street lights for several hours last night.

Fire Chief Thomas Gimick reported that a preliminary check of the workers showed there were no casualties.

Overheated Stove Leaves 12 Homeless

Norristown, Pa., Feb. 13 (AP)—Fire, raging rapidly through a two-family house along the Schuylkill river near here, destroyed the building and its contents and left 12 persons homeless.

An overheated oil stove in a second floor bedroom was believed responsible for the blaze, which raced through the frame house so quickly last night that two families barely had time to get out without salvaging any belongings.

THIEVES GET SAFE Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—Thieves took a 600-pound safe containing from $2,000 to $4,000 from the office of the soft drink firm of J. Frank & Sons, police reported today. Detectives said the robbers apparently used one of the company's hand trucks to move the safe outside of the plant and then drove off in a truck.

It cost $8,000,000 in 1946 for a squadron of 10 B-29s with equipment.

HALF MILLION LOSS IN FIRE

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 13 (AP)—Firemen probed through the smoldering embers today for possible casualties in the flesh fire which swept the MacLaren Sportswear factory causing a loss unofficially set at $500,000.

The fire, of undetermined origin, broke out yesterday in a new three-story brick addition used as a warehouse and raced through the entire plant despite efforts of eight area fire companies to confine the blaze.

The loss of the plant deprives this community of its largest industry. More than 350 workers were made idle by the fire.

Flames surging out from the burning factory destroyed one nearby home, damaged four others and burned down power lines which left the community without electric current or street lights for several hours last night.

Fire Chief Thomas Gimick reported that a preliminary check of the workers showed there were no casualties.

 FIND BABE'S BODY
 Camden, N. J., Feb. 13 (AP)—The body of a day-old baby, wrapped in a pink and white blanket and heavy paper, was found in a shopping bag beside a road near the Delaware River. An autopsy disclosed the child, whose body was found yesterday, died of suffocation, Joseph Kostanzo, Camden county physician said.

CLAIM HEALING BY 'AIR WAVES'

Erie, Pa., Feb. 13 (AP)—The story of his claimed cure of disease by means of air wave emanations which "follow patients everywhere" was told to a jury by Dr. Alva B. Scott, on trial today for false pretense in the practice of medicine.

A "little black box" with which Dr. Scott said his cures were effected had its inuring in court. He asserted that once it is adjusted to a patient's wave length, he need not return to the doctor's office for treatment. The waves would follow him about and cure him, he stated.

Dr. Scott, who terms his treatment "aetheronics," said he determines a person's wave length by a drop of blood taken from him. However, five commonwealth experts rejected the efficacy of the "little black box." Among them were Francis J. Hermann, professor of chemistry at Gannon college, Erie, who said:

"There is no possible way the box could help anybody."

Four well known Erie men, including two ministers, testified they benefited from Dr. Scott's treatment. The Rev. John Keeley, pastor of Luther Memorial church, said that when the emanations were turned on him he recovered full use of his voice in three months. Before that, he said, he had voice trouble for 20 years.

Three Plead On Fraud Charges

Clearfield, Pa., Feb. 13 (AP)—Three men entered pleas of guilty before Judge F. Cortez Bell yesterday on charges of conspiring to defraud two Clearfield business men of a total of $6,500. Sentence was deferred until February 22.

The defendants were William Wallace, 48, of Leontes Mills, Clearfield county; Vernon Hancock, 40, of Northeast, Erie county, and Edward Elmsig, 44, of Pottsville, Schuylkill county.

An indictment against a fourth man, Robert Stanley, 35, of Indianapolis, was nolle prossed. Officials said he was not connected with the fraud.

The state accused the other three men of obtaining $4,700 from Steve Kovalick, strip mine operator, of Leontes Mills, on a promise to deliver him truck tires in November, 1945; and obtaining $1,800 from Roy Fullington, owner of the Fullington Bus Co., last fall on a promise to deliver sugar.

No Developments In Steel Parleys

Pittsburgh, Feb. 13 (AP)—Negotiations working for a 1947 contract between the U. S. Steel Corp. and the CIO United Steelworkers busied themselves today with other than wage issues amid indications the "non-economic" points would hold their attention for a long time to come.

Sessions in a downtown hotel suite end with conferees shrugging aside queries with statements that there have been no developments.

In another steel development, industrial sources expressed doubt any price reduction is near, pointing out raw material prices have advanced.

WEBER CONFIRMED

Harrisburg, Feb. 13 (AP)—The Senate, without debate, confirmed Tuesday Governor Duff's nomination of Brig. Gen. Frank A. Weber as adjutant general in his cabinet. The vote was unanimous. The Senate also confirmed John A. Boyle, Philadelphia, as judge of the Philadelphia municipal court and Thomas J. Evans, as chairman of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

U.S. AND CANADA TOGETHER ON FIRM DEFENSE

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
 (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Announcement of Canadian-American plans for military co-operation creates in effect an English-speaking entente for defense of a 10,000-mile arc across the North Atlantic, Arctic and Pacific from London to Tokyo.

Considering British installations along her "lifeline" to Australia, New Zealand and Hong Kong, the Anglo-Saxon periphery extends roughly around the world. On her side Britain is having trouble in Egypt, the Sudan, Palestine, Iran, India, and at other points, but in the western hemisphere the line, while attenuated, is not involved in political troubles, except insofar as Iceland and Denmark's Greenland play the role of innocent bystanders. Arms standardization agreements in Latin-America are expected soon to make the western hemisphere a solid bloc for defense.

This does not mean that a Canadian-American force is taking up positions, bayonets fixed, that air forces are flying patrol actions and warships scouting the seas on the alert. Merely that arms will be standardized, "test runs" made and strategy worked out in the light of lessons learned.

Natural Trend
 Whether or not a formal announcement is made of a similar agreement with the British, this is all merely a part of a natural trend which has been taking place ever since U. S. industry became the hub of English-speaking military strength.

Although many people fear military coalitions of any sort, and the Russians will consider it a further act of "western encirclement," the Ottawa-Washington statement stresses that nothing is to be done in conflict with United Nations policy, which dominates the entire American outlook on world affairs.

And for a long time it should have been plain to all except those who will not see that England and the United States have no heart for any war except one of defense, and not that if it can possibly be avoided.

If the world-wide defense line be described as one against Soviet Russia and Communism, as it has been by some, it is because the dynamism, the nationalism, which produces wars now emanates largely from that source.

Russia, too, by militantly extending her outposts since the war, has invited wariness on the part of her neighbors, and should not be surprised by parallel or counter action.

SEEK DATA ON DEAD
 Yokohama, Feb. 13 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger today ordered that all possible information be obtained from the Japanese people about unrecovered remains of allied war dead in Japan. It has been estimated that the remains of approximately 50 allied personnel are buried in isolated graves or cemeteries in the Japanese home islands.

Attlee Clamps Wartime Controls On Britain As Coal Shortage Mounts

COAL CABINET SET UP TO ACT IN EMERGENCY

By ROBERT HEWETT

London, Feb. 13 (AP)—Great Britain was placed on a virtual war footing today as Prime Minister Attlee clamped strict new control on the nation's millions to enforce island-wide electric power cuts ordered to combat a "desperately critical" coal shortage.

A national defense act carrying penalties ranging up to fines of $2,000 and imprisonment for two years for violators was invoked as the daily five-hour ban on the use of electricity for homes and other domestic consumption was extended to all of England, Scotland and Wales—shivering in the bitterest cold wave in half a century.

Attlee, calling for measures as urgent as for a major military operation to speed the mining and transport of coal, set up a special nine-man "coal cabinet" and ordered labor minister George Isaacs to organize immediately additional civilian labor to help in clearing the snow-blocked arteries of transport.

Blackout Returns

A blackout of street lighting comparable to that of the war returned to Britain as all street and highway lights except those at dangerous intersections were ordered extinguished.

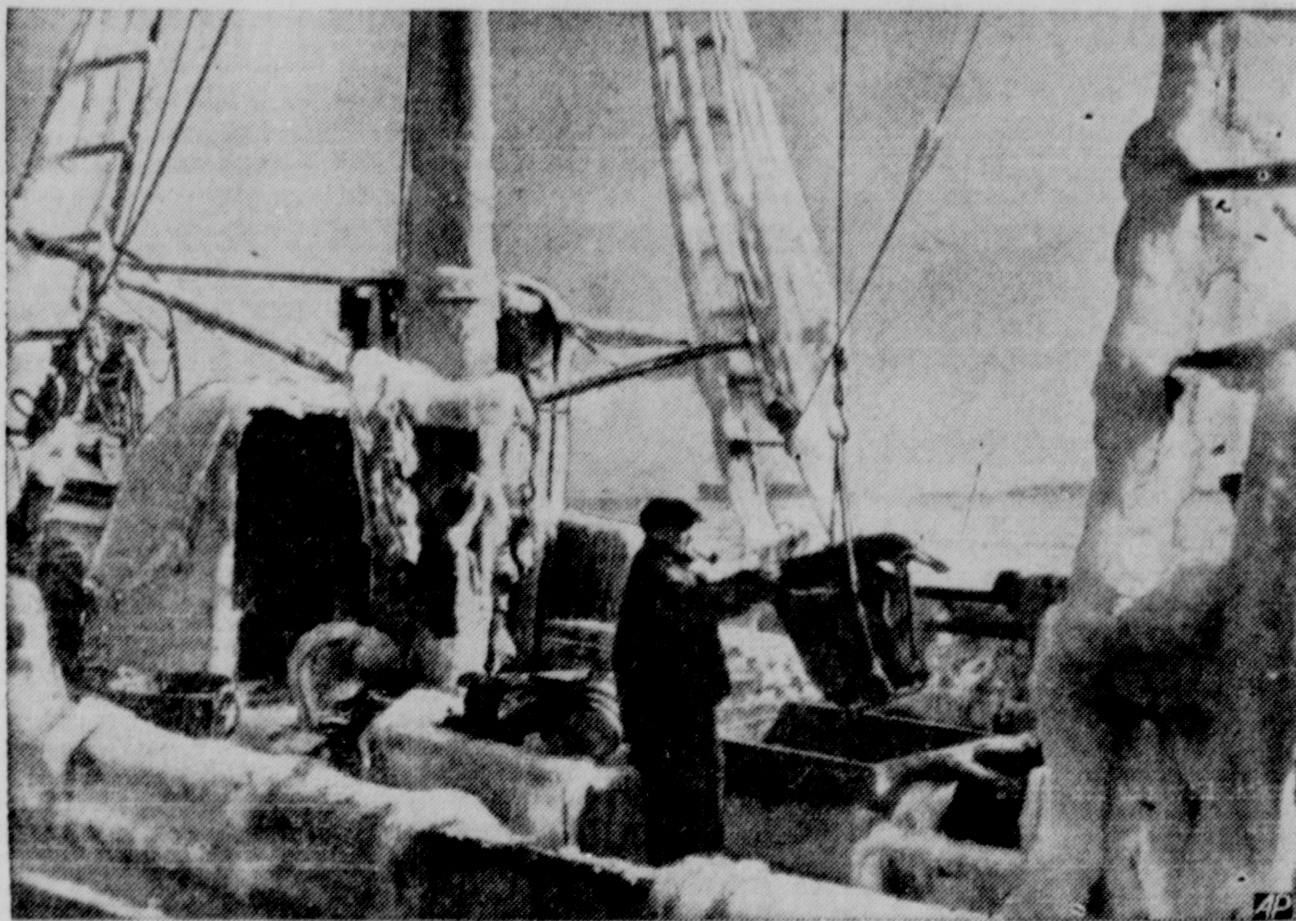

It remained uncertain whether it would be necessary to restore wartime labor controls in order to recruit, from the five to six million temporarily thrown out of work by the industrial shutdown, enough laborers to unload coal cars and ships.

Isaacs was directed to confer with the trades union Congress on this problem and Arthur Deakin, general secretary of the transport and general workers union, suggested last night that "emergency steps" be taken through labor exchanges to get volunteers.

The spirit which carried Britain through the dark days of the blitz was reflected in a fuel and power ministry communique entitled "the battle of the power stations." It announced that the power embargo, effective since Monday in 38 of the 64 English and Welsh counties, had resulted in saving some coal but that the five-hour daily blackout was being extended to the whole island and its 49,000,000 people, effective today from 9 a. m. to noon and 2 p. m. to 4 p. m.

Fire Faces Cuts

Industries outside the 38-county area were not affected by the new ban. The former cut shut down everything but projects essential to health and welfare in those 38 counties.

Northern Ireland was excluded from the embargo on power, but Sir Roland Nugent, Northern Ireland's minister of commerce, appealed for drastic volunteer reductions and warned that the "position is critical."

Eire, too, was facing power cuts. Sean Lemass, minister of industry and commerce, told the Dail last night that Eire may have a "first class coal crisis" if bad weather continues to keep dwindling peat supplies from drying.

Invoking of the defense regulation, with its penalties, to enforce the power cut had been generally expected, however, after the government announced that compliance of householders on Tuesday had been "not so good." The Manchester electrical engineer described public cooperation—or lack of it—as "disgraceful" and switched off power, even to essential users, for 10-minute periods on a rotation basis as a warning.

More coal began to reach London and other power stations yesterday as nearly 100,000 troops, German prisoners and Polish resettlement corpsmen aided road gangs in clearing deep drifts across the rail lines of Northern England. Ten coal ships from Newcastle arrived in the Thames last night and 52 more were reported on the way despite dirty weather in the channel.

PICKET CITY HALL

Camden, N. J., Feb. 13 (AP)—Approximately 400 Camden school teachers picketed Camden's city hall in protest against the failure of the board of education to vote them an immediate $200 salary increase, retroactive to January 1, a spokesman for the demonstrators said.

Home Spared As Bomb Fuse Fails

Pittsburgh, Feb. 13 (AP)—Police in nearby Clairton today hunted clues in a bombing attempt which failed when a five-foot fuse sputtered out within three inches of a detonator on a home-made bomb placed on the front porch of the Joseph Bendetto home.

Inside the house were Mr. and Mrs. Bendetto and three children. The bomb, made of five sticks of dynamite, was found by Mrs. Bendetto who went to the porch to investigate a noise.

'Valentine Gift' Shooting Is Fatal

Pittsburgh, Feb. 13 (AP)—Rudolph Fleck, 35, who shot himself as a "Valentine Day gift" to his wife, died Tuesday.

Fleck last Friday asked his wife:

"I got a nice present for you. Do you want it now or an Valentine's Day."

Coroner William McClelland reported that when Mrs. Fleck replied "now," her husband whipped out a .22 calibre rifle and fired a bullet into his head.

SUPREME COURT DECISION MAY BRING DEBATE

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—The Supreme court has given a decision which will be argued a long time by people of varying religious beliefs. It said it's right to use public funds to transport children not only to public schools but to schools of varying religious beliefs.

Here was the problem: In your town some of your tax money is used to support the public schools for buses to take children to those schools. (Those public schools give no religious training so children of any faith can go there).

Use of Tax Money
But some of your tax money also is being used to transport some children to Catholic schools where Catholic doctrine is taught.

Can any town or state use your money for that, particularly if you are a non-Catholic or maybe an opponent of Catholicism?

About 17 states, including New Jersey, have state laws permitting use of public funds in that way.

But a New Jersey taxpayer, Arch R. Everson, didn't think it was right. His town, Ewing, N. J., was using some of its public funds to pay the bus fare of Catholic children going to Catholic schools.

He Filed A Suit
He filed suit to put a stop to it, arguing the New Jersey law under which his town acted was unconstitutional on these grounds:

1. You can't take by taxation a man's property and give it to someone else. (14th amendment to the constitution).

2. There can't be any law in the U. S. "respecting the establishment of a religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." (1st amendment).

The case finally got to the Supreme court which yesterday said the New Jersey law was all right and constitutional.

A Tight Decision
But it was a very tight decision.

New Oxford

New Oxford.—Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Small became the parents of a daughter at the Hanover hospital recently. The father is a son of Mrs. and the late James J. Small.

Mrs. Zora Stambaugh, teacher of the New Chester school, reports that these children were present every day during the past month: Ray Cooley, Ruth Millhimes, Betty Sager, Joyce Ann Trimmer, Donna Lee Yingling, Eugene Thomas, Eva Sager, Robert Hall, Yvonne Trimmer, Dean Starry, Ruthetta Bly, Charles Gearhart, Gene Starry, Joyce Starry and Grayson Detrick.

Worth Bible, who was confined to his home by illness for several weeks, is able to be about.

According to the report from the teacher, Gerald L. Orndorff, these pupils at Pine Run school, near town, have been perfect in attendance for the past month: Donald Schaefer.

Five of the nine justices upheld the New Jersey law. Four of the nine said it was unconstitutional.

The five are: Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Black, Douglas, Murphy, and Reed. The four who dissented are: Justices Rutledge, Frankfurter, Jackson and Burton.

Will this mean the similar laws in the other 16 states, and the District of Columbia, are okay, too?

Probably, but that can't be stated positively here and for this reason: The Supreme court decides each case on its merits. Sometimes if it has to decide on one of those other state laws it may decide that law is different some way from the New Jersey law and therefore wrong.

WAA Seeks Buyer For Surplus Plant

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—A government-owned surplus plant which at one time was considered as a possible site for an anthracite laboratory and experimental station, was offered for sale or rent today by the War Assets Administration.

Frank L. McNamee, WAA's regional director, said the plant, which was leased by the National Carbon Co. during the war, is located at Hanover township, near Wilkes-Barre. The U. S. Bureau of Mines had asked WAA to delay disposal action pending selection of a site for the anthracite lab.

A site at Hazleton was subsequently selected.

The Hanover township property consists of 3.4 acres of land, a manufacturing building, an office structure, storage silos, production equipment.

Assess Value Of Old Lincoln Photo

Columbus, O., Feb. 13 (AP)—Collectors of Civil War historical data sought today to evaluate one of the most famous Lincoln photographs on record.

A print of the emancipator and Civil War president taken before he assumed the chief executive office in 1860, was uncovered recently when a retired fireman, E. Earle Nelson, rummaged through some old personal effects.

One of the first eight of 100 photographs made of Lincoln, it shows him without beard, youthful, smoothskinned and free of the haggard appearance the last four years of his life gave him.

SYNAGOGUE FIRE

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—Officials of Har Zion synagogue Wed. asked the fire marshal's office to investigate a $250,000 fire that swept the synagogue last night destroying invaluable scrolls, silverware and the main altar. No one was injured although 300 pupils in an adjoining Hebrew school were forced to flee as flames spread through an auditorium below the synagogue's altar and seeped into the basement auditorium of the two-story stone building.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF LINCOLN IS GIVEN TO U. S.

By ARTHUR L. EDSON
Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—The tall, homely man was writing his autobiography. He wasn't very well known. Three pages would tell the whole story.

The last paragraph said:
"If any personal description of me is thought desirable, it may be said, I am in height, six feet, four inches, nearly; lean in flesh, weighing, on an average, one hundred and eighty pounds; dark complexion with coarse black hair; and grey eyes—no other marks or brands recollected—"

That autobiography, written in 1859, helped get Abraham Lincoln elected President the following year.

Was Asked for Document
And Wednesday, on the 130th anniversary of Lincoln's birth, the original manuscript was presented to the Library of Congress.

The Rev. Robert Dale Richardson of Medford, Mass., was selected to make the presentation. Richardson is the great-grandson of Jesse W. Fell, who persuaded Lincoln to write the autobiography. Fell, one-time publisher of the Bloomington, Ill., Pantagraph, was among the first to see Presidential possibilities in Lincoln. Fell was in the east in 1858, when Lincoln was debating Stephen A. Douglas.

Everyone knew Douglas, of course. But who was this fellow Lincoln?

Fell heard the question so often that when he got home he asked Lincoln to write some sort of autobiography. Lincoln at first said nothing doing. But he finally sent a rough draft to be used as background for a newspaper article.

"Not Much of Me"

With the autobiography was a note saying, "there is not much of it, for the reason, I suppose, that there is not much of me—"

Fell sent the manuscript to Joseph L. Lewis of West Chester, Pa., with the suggestion that a sketch be prepared for publication in Pennsylvania newspapers.

That sketch first appeared in the Chester County Times on February 11, 1860.

Widely reprinted, it helped make Lincoln better known and became "a most important, if not a determining factor," in his election.

That's what the man who was in height, six feet, four inches, nearly, said. And he's the man who should have known.

Breadon Spurned Offer Of $150,000

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Sam Breadon has been criticized for selling spavined, sore-armed St. Louis Cardinals for fancy prices but it has been learned he spurned a $150,000 offer last summer for three players he didn't even have on his ball club.

Hours after Max Lanier, Fred Martin and Lou Klein had been granted travel permits to "jump" to Mexico, May 23, Larry MacPhail of the New York Yankees offered $150,000 cash to Breadon for the three men.

There were no strings attached to the offer and Larry was willing to gamble on the players reporting to him although every paper in the country carried the story that Lane, and his mates were headed south of the border.

Breadon considered the bid momentarily and asked MacPhail how the players could be sold to the Yankees when they were National League property.

When MacPhail assured him no National League club would risk a waiver claim on a player who already was believed enroute to Mexico, "Salesman Sam" belied his nickname with an emphatic "no."

The Cardinal owner made it clear that Lanier, Martin and Klein must play with St. Louis or not at all. It turned out to be not at all for they were playing in Mexico within a week.
